Shadow: O_O
Shadow: prove it me: Spoke with Bob Frisbie (Senior VP at Mantech for CNO) today. He is going to give us a purchase order for $100K to develop a persona management capability.
Shadow: dude
Shadow: if you can get that Shadow: i will be shocked me: get what?
Shadow: that is proof beyond a shadow of a doubt that PSM is real Shadow: the purchase order me: we already have proof that PSM is real me: CENTCOM admitted to it me: there's the IBM contract Shadow: yeah
Shadow: but that was the paten for it, and some one saying that it was real Shadow: kinda hard to debate a order sheet me: you have the e-mails extracted?
Shadow: not all of them
Shadow: thats gonna have to be a project Shadow: a long fucking project me: it's easy me: you just use Bulk Rename Utility Shadow: i do not use windows me: change them to Thunderbird Shadow: and thats not for extraction me: I know me: you would extract using whatever shitty linux thing you have for doing what I did in 30 seconds using winrar
Shadow: dude
Shadow: winrar is for linux too Shadow: dumbass
Shadow: anyways
Shadow: i was not saying that the emails where gonna be the problem

Shadow: it was setting them up online Shadow: its gonna be a pain me: oh, I think that's taken care of Shadow: then why do i need to do that?
me: I was gonna say you could search through them on your machine Shadow: oh no shit Shadow: xD me: until such time as I figure out where the searchable e-mails are me: someone said to me on twitter me: one sec
me: oh me: so, Romas/COIN me: whatever it is me: going to be replaced by something called Odyssey Shadow: O_o
